The Layton Active Transportation Plan is underway! The City has begun the process of developing a master plan to make walking and bicycling in our community safer and more convenient for people. When implemented, the recommendations from this plan will provide more transportation and recreation choices for people visiting, working, and living in Layton. The project is in the early stages of analyzing existing conditions, developing goals for the plan, and identifying improvement opportunities.

This is where you can help! For the on-line option, please take a few minutes at any time to contribute your local knowledge and ideas by typing the URL below into your address bar or scan the QR code where you can learn more about active transportation, take the survey, and identify needs in the community. For the in-person option, please refer to the date, time and location to the left.
